Dear students,

Our era is characterized by increasing globalization. Every day, technological advances that allow for the instant transmission of information change the way we communicate, the way we work, the way we learn and the way we live our lives. At the same time, international trade and tourism and worldwide media communication are expanding. Individuals, corporations, markets, and nation-states can reach around the world faster and more cheaply than ever before. Traditional boundaries between culture, commerce, technology, politics, and the environment are rapidly disappearing. National borders are no longer barriers to learning, living, and working. People may speak different languages, eat different foods, and worship in different ways, but we do not do so in isolation. The world today is a global village and we are all members of the same community.

Our aim is to provide you with the knowledge, experience, and multicultural perspective that will allow you to explore, learn, question, create, and thrive as productive members of a global society in your chosen careers. We are dedicated to an interactive teaching style, and we maintain high expectations for our students and high academic standards in the classroom. We are committed to giving you the personal attention, support, and care necessary for you to succeed and realize your full potential.

Anton Kozych graduated from law school before studying at UNYP, and got involved in a few businesses after moving to the Czech Republic. Although he has always had this entrepreneurial mindset, he felt he was lacking in theory so he decided to go for an MBA in Business to get a bird’s eye view of business management. He chose UNYP because he wanted to get practical information from real professionals. “Coming to Prague as a foreigner, I saw an MBA program at UNYP as an excellent opportunity for making local and international connections, and some of them grew into serious friendships.”

Thanks to his UNYP MBA degree, he started an M&A consulting company with a focus on small and medium companies. After a couple of years, he saw a new opportunity and participated as a member of the core team bringing the master franchise of the biggest real estate company in the US to the Czech Republic.

This is a unique opportunity for our MBA graduates to obtain an Academic qualification from a UK Higher Education institution by attending only three modules from the Master’s program and writing a dissertation.

Classes are offered on weekends (as with the MBA classes) and in six months our graduates will obtain a degree and advance their skills and knowledge in topics such as Human Resources in a Global Context, Information Systems for Competitive Advantage and Research Methods. These modules complement the deep knowledge that our graduates have obtained from their MBA studies, while they become more confident in dealing with the challenges of global businesses.

UNYP and our partner UK Higher Education Institution, the University of Bolton, have reached an agreement whereby UNYP MBA graduates can obtain the Master of Science in International Management by transferring all their UNYP MBA credits onto the Master’s degree offered by the University of Bolton.

The modules are designed to offer a carefully tailored blend of theory and practical knowledge, allowing our students to apply what they already know and prepare projects and assignments based on real-life business situations. The dissertation gives students the opportunity to carry out systematic research in a topic of their choice, such as a new business opportunity, an improvement of organizational culture or a winning marketing strategy. The students will then come up with a coherent plan of action that they can immediately apply to their own work context.

M.A. IN STRATEGIC COMMUNICATIONS

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

Organizations face many challenges communicating in a global economy. From executives to employees to activists, organizations must effectively interact with diverse audiences to be successful. The Master’s in Strategic Communications meets the challenges of the constantly developing environment of 21st-century communication and media, by teaching students how to engage with the needs of a wide range of stakeholders.

Recent developments in media and technology have caused radical changes in the way that people and organizations communicate. These changes have led to an urgent need to integrate communications planning into the very core of organizational life – not only for large companies, corporations and NGOs, but also for more unusual entities such as sports figures, celebrities, educational institutions, hospitals, and even the smallest of businesses. With increasing communication possibilities, the question of strategy concerns both organizations and individuals. The mere presence of media tools at one’s disposal does not result in effective communication; only a thorough understanding of the available communication options can enable organizations to achieve their goals. The UNYP Master’s in Strategic Communication program features an emphasis on application, case studies, and practical problem-solving methodologies in order to prepare students for the fast-paced, dynamic, and ever-evolving global communications environment.

Ph.D. BY PUBLICATION

ABOUT THE PROGRAM
Many high-calibre professionals with first-class degrees undertake research and developmental activities while working as professionals in the industry. This often leads to outstanding results. Ph.D. by publication will formally acknowledge the student’s work and output, which results in academic publications. The program is designed so that students don’t have to leave their work in order to pursue their studies.

PROGRAM STRUCTURE
A UNYP Ph.D. by publication usually requires a minimum of three years, during which time students should publish at least three academic publications, approved by the University of Bolton. These publications should be the basis of the student’s thesis and should develop the student’s knowledge of the subject. The award of this Ph.D. is based on the published work from the student, and as such it rewards on-going professional activities with limited additional work required.

5 REASONS TO STUDY Ph.D. BY PUBLICATION

1. Students can significantly increase their depth of knowledge in their area of expertise.

2. The program awards students the highest academic qualification possible (doctorate).

3. While studying, students will have the possibility of networking with other Ph.D. candidates and industry partners.

4. Students will have international exposure within their chosen field.

5. During the study program, students will participate in the annual Knowledge and Innovation Forum as well as other University of Bolton events.
Thanks to UNYP, I was able to build my corporate identity, stay motivated and do the best job I can do. UNYP is a brand. When you have it on your CV, employers can see an American education and are impressed. While studying there, I learned how to prioritize. I learned how to present in English with confidence and sell myself to my managers. I was like a partner with my professors, not just a student.

UNYP offers a wide range of master’s degree programs, some of which are taught in cooperation with universities in other countries, allowing students to gain a diploma from a different country while still staying in Prague. For me it was important to stay in Prague as I already had a full-time job and did not plan to move, but I knew I wanted to gain a master’s degree in order to expand my knowledge and gain more developed and focused skills in the area that I worked in – Marketing. After finding out that UNYP offered the opportunity to get a degree by studying on weekends instead of weekdays, I knew this was the right choice.

The MPS program gave me the opportunity to work continually with top-notch instructors from across the professional spectrum, whether in the classroom or in the therapy room. The international community of the UNYP student body and MPS instructors exposed me to a cultural diversity I would not find in my home country of America. The theoretical knowledge coupled with the practical internships makes UNYP an ideal learning experience for individuals just completing undergraduate studies or returning to academia after years in the working world.
ALUMNI OF THE YEAR

An extraordinary achievement cannot go unnoticed. We believe that rewarding one alumnus or alumna every year is an important part of keeping our alumni network engaged and connected to the UNYP community. The award itself is not only a means of acknowledging the success of one alumnus or alumna, it is a way of drawing attention to the fact that our talented alumni have the power to make a difference. The ambition, enthusiasm and hard work our alumni put into their projects are changing the world in many areas on local and global scale alike.

UNYP is home to the UNYP Blazers. We represent our university by participating in many sporting activities, primarily in football, floorball and basketball.
Housing is included in the UNYP Study Abroad Program Fee. Students are placed into student residences within close proximity to UNYP, and surrounded by cafés, restaurants, public transportation, and much more.

The public transport pass that is included in the Study Abroad Program Fee allows students to access the excellent public transportation system in Prague.
